Once students started this year at Itawamba Community College located on the banks of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, they never stopped. From the first day of classes in mid-August to the last in mid-May, Indians found out how to balance work and play, even though it was a difficult task.

Through hard work and an abundance of extracurricular activities, Itawamba Indians built memories this year that would last a lifetime.

ICC's students learned very important values that they will take with them after graduation including friendship, honor, hard work and responsibility.

As the 2001-02 school year began, the students, both freshmen and seasoned sophomores, found new ways to take full advantage of their college experience. Some joined clubs and organizations, while others got physical by participating in sports, both intercollegiate and intramural.

Others who didn't participate in extracurricular activities found ways to enjoy themselves. . .talking to new friends outside of class or shooting pool in the Grill. New friendships were made, and old ones were rekindled. Students expanded their knowledge, but at the same time, let the good times roll.

One of the hardest parts of college for most students was getting up in time for class, especially those dreaded 8 a.m. ones. . .it was practically the middle of the night, especially since they didn't go to bed until dawn.

As the year progressed, students seemed to manage their tardies and absences better. It could have been the threat of failure due to absence that woke them up since those tardies added up to absences. No matter what time of the day those classes were, students had to be there when the instructor called the roll.

Students at Itawamba Community College became involved in many ways this year. Whether it was Homecoming activities, playing games in the Student Activities Center, involvement in organizations or working in classrooms, ICC offered the students a variety of activities and opportunities.

Many students who had never lived away from home moved into campus residence halls. Although many of them roomed with friends that they had known since high school, some students became roommates with people from other towns. Those new acquaintances grew into lasting friendships.

Students met new teachers, became involved in campus clubs and many saw the college for the first time. . .and, some students had so much fun, they didn't want to leave for the summer.

Keep Your Head

Whether it was taking notes during class, last minute studying, doing homework between classes or having a quick meal—students did it all to keep their heads above the waters of college life this year.

For incoming freshmen, learning to take extra time they had out of class to get ahead was an important lesson each had to learn. Management of time for studying, working, eating, and having fun were difficult to fit into busy schedules, but the rewards of a well-planned college career will be evident throughout their lifetime.

Water Under

Whether it was studying, getting tickets, checking grades, or just having fun, the people of ICC always had things under control. With the start of the fall semester, both faculty and students had to readjust to campus life.

One of the most important parts of college life is having fun, and ICC students took full advantage of each opportunity. Most students were able to manage their time and not get too upset over the occasional parking ticket or not-so-good grade.

Like Water Spendin' Money

We all have heard the phrase, "A good education is priceless," but, as many ICC students found out this year, it is also costly.

The members of the freshman class got a taste of what it will be like in the "real world," when the computer totaled their tuition, supplies and books. However, grants and scholarships did help curb a great deal of expense.

The majority of the student body had to provide "out of pocket" money to cover the rest. Students spent money like water, only in the end it was their pockets that were empty.

Goin' with

the Flow

During the long days of classes, students stayed busy this year. Often they looked for the easy way; in other words, they went with the flow. The activity that came easiest to most college students was talking. Not a day passed that students were not in conversation outside the classrooms with friends, catching up with the day's activities.

Talking on cell phones was another form of communication around campus; however, the best way that many passed the time was to find a quiet spot and get all of their schoolwork finished before talking time.

The spring semester kicked off with the Miss ICC pageant, where the winner advanced to compete in the Miss Mississippi pageant. Mr. and Miss ICC were selected in mid-January.

Other activities included Indian Week in late April, which gave students a chance to release some tension before final examinations began.

Mr. ICC

Jimmy Flake of Pontotoc and Kacy Collier of Tupelo were elected Mr. and Miss ICC for 2001-02. Elections were held January 16, and a run-off for Mr. ICC was held January 18. Criteria for their selection included sophomore status with enrollment in 12 or more semester hours, not on academic or disciplinary probation and a grade point average of 2.0 or better.

Flake is a Mathematics Education major, and he plans to transfer to Mississippi State University next fall. He then aspires to attend a seminary in pursuit of a ministerial degree. He is involved in intramural sports, BSU and FCA. His honors include Phi Theta Kappa, Who's Who, BSU, President and President's List. He enjoys church-related activities and outdoor sports. He is the son of Pam Bramlett and Travis Flake.

Collier is a Business/Marketing major at ICC, and she plans to transfer to the University of Mississippi and attend Law School. She is involved in the BSU, FCA, Phi Theta Kappa, Phi Beta Lambda, Kaleidoscope, Indian Delegation and Diamond Girls. Her honors include Who's Who Among American Junior College Students, National Dean's List and President's List. Her hobbies include cutting hair, church activities and singing. She is the daughter of Lynn Collier and the late Jerry Collier.

85 selected to Who's Who at Itawamba Community College

The 2001 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges included the names of 85 students from Itawamba Community College who have been selected as outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory selected participants based on their academic achievement, community service, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

The ICC students were among an elite group of students from more than 1,800 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since 1934 when the directory was first published.

Don Simmons speaks to the students, faculty and guests at the program.

On April 4, 2001 at 11 a.m in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center auditorium the Honors' Day ceremony was held. The recognition of top scholars was sponsored by the Phi Theta Kappa, academic honor society, and the ICC Honors Council.

The guest speaker was Don Simmons, the assistant director of the Mississippi Humanities Council, who addressed the topic of "In the Midst of Water-Origin and Destiny of Life."

The ceremony was held primarily to recognize the students of ICC that have achieved and maintained excellent grades. Preceding the program a reception was held for the honorees and their families.

Indian Week, which began in 1974, is a tradition at Itawamba Community College. This year, it was a week packed with activities which provided a break before exams.

To begin the week on the Fulton Campus, activities on April 23 included a cookout, and ping-pong, spades, and pool tournaments.

Magician David Strange performed at noon and later that day the annual block party featured a street dance.

On April 25, the Fashion Tribe presented a spring show at noon, and there was a talent show at 7 p.m.

On the Tupelo Campus activities also included magician David Strange and an Honors Day recognition of outstanding students at 11 a.m. "Stump Water" also performed.

There is nothing like winning, even though the teams didn't always win! ICC athletes gave it their best shot every game to make their coaches and fans proud. They didn't always bring home victory, but always got credit for their competitive attitudes and actions.

Fulton is a small town, but considering at least 10 different sports were played at ICC this year, it always gave students something to be part of and to go to see.

Winning wasn't always about who had the best or highest score, but about how the game was played and with what kind of heart.

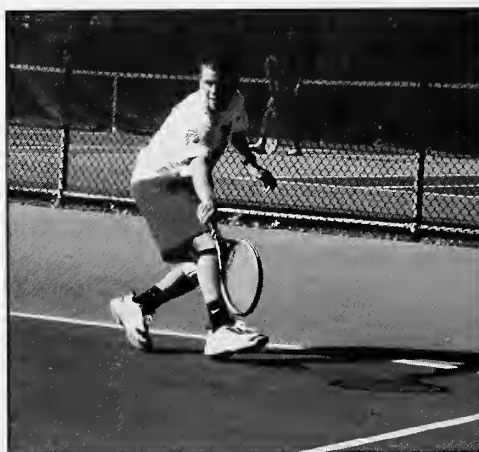

Luckily ICC fans never tired of the Indians' high spirit and great sportsmanship. ICC's coaches worked hard to make all winning teams regardless of the score. In the end, ICC had the ingredients for wins: work, integrity, nerve and sportsmanship.

Making the Touchdown

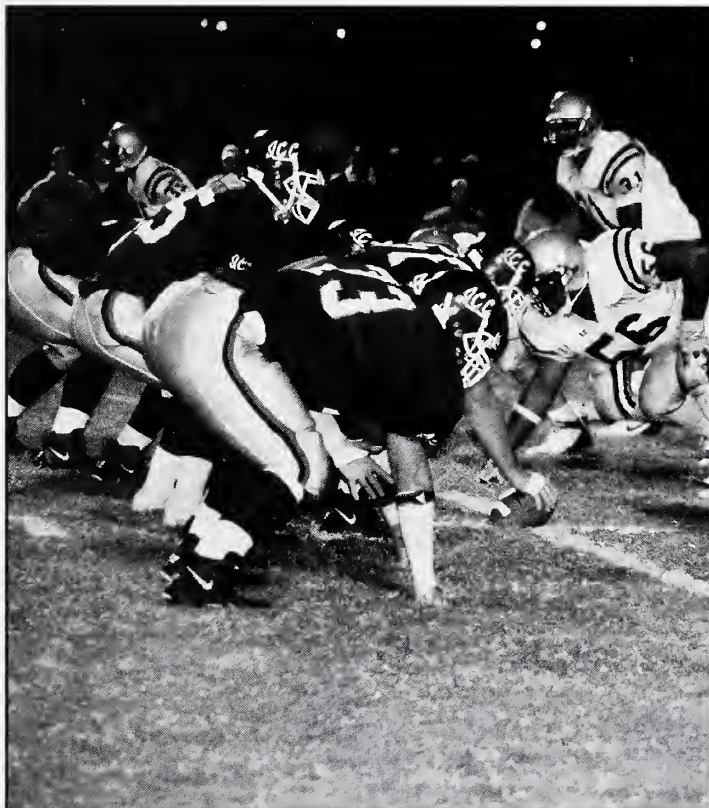

The ICC Indians went on the road to open the 2001 football season against the Co-Lin Wolves and fell short of a victory in a low-scoring 13-8 game. ICC then returned to the road for game two, hoping to even its record with a win against Jones County Junior College. ICC fell short of a win in a hard-fought 23-7 struggle. Game three brought the first home game for the Indians. Itawamba hosted Holmes, hoping to give ICC's fans their first victory. The Indians again fell, but out in a close, seesaw like battle, 28-17.

The Indians' next opponent was Northwest, who had been upset by the Northeast Tigers the week before. ICC fell to the Rangers, 31-24, in what would have been an awesome victory. Looking for its first win of the season, the Indians faced East Mississippi in the Homecoming game. CC's tribe didn't disappoint with an 18-17 victory. The next week, ICC traveled to Coahoma and dominated with a 35-14 victory for its second win in a row.

Next up for the Indians was the annual game against the arch rival Northeast Tigers. The Indians again came out on top with a 21-14 win. CC then went on the road to face Mississippi Delta Community College and came up short with a 33-6 loss that knocked them out of playoff contention. ICC ended its 2001 season with a loss to Gulf Coast, 38-11, and a 3-6 record.

ICC will start the 2002 football season with new coach, Jeff C. Terrill, formerly assistant at Hinds where his record was 76-19, which includes five state championships.

He has also served as athletic director/head football coach at Kosciusko High School from 1986-93 and defensive coordinator at East Mississippi Community College from 1980-86. "We will be about rebuilding this program," Terrill said. "I believe in young men being successful in the classroom as well as on the field."

Terrill also emphasized the importance of players from ICC's district that includes Chickasaw, Itawamba, Lee, Monroe and Pontotoc counties. "They (the players) should be recruited and we should let them know that they are wanted." Terrill wants to build trust between coaches, administrators, faculty, staff and players. Terrill said, "It is important to put scores on the scoreboard, but equally important to put quality players on the field."

Cheering them On

The cheerleaders began practicing hard and enduring long hours immediately after the April tryouts. As a result, the Itawamba Community College's cheerleaders placed superior in their competitions last summer at the University of Alabama.

When school began, the cheerleaders worked extra after school hours putting routines together and perfecting them. They worked hard at the fall football games to inspire the players and fans.

The 2001 cheerleaders included freshmen Brooke Bridges, Corey Moore, and Anna Strickland of Fulton; Erin Bilger of Caledonia; Serinity Grantham of Tupelo; and mascot Mistie Colvin of Hamilton, Ala; and sophomores Ginny Cogdell of Fulton; Kacie Donald of Hamilton; Kenny Frye of New Hope; Chad Lindamood of Pontotoc; Rob McKnight of Hatley; Cooper McCachren of Enid; Jessica Miller of Emmanuel; James Walls of Mooreville and Derrick Young of Caledonia. The sponsor is Judith Naden.

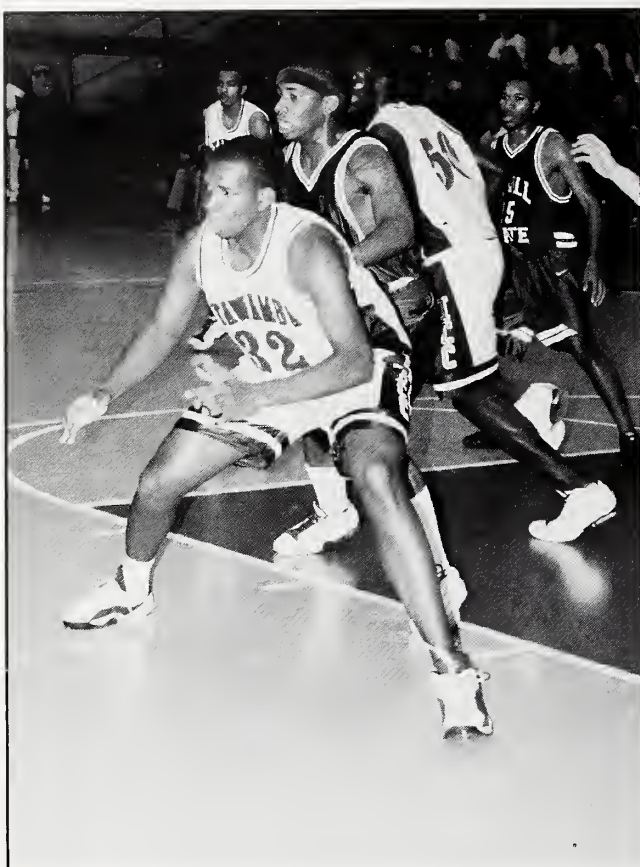

Not only did the cheerleaders promote fans' spirit at ICC's athletic events, they also shared their talents with area junior high and high schools.

The ICC cheerleaders helped with activities at Daniel Nursing Home and they participated in the Battle of the Cheerleaders at the North Mississippi Regional Fair in September.

Makin' it happen

The focus of the 2001-02 Lady Indians' squad was conditioning, according to Coach Carrie Ball in a pre-season interview.

Ever since the second week of school, the Lady Indians hit both the weights and the books as well as maximizing their time on the court. "All of our players have come with positive attitudes and anticipation," Ball said. "Both of these are important in order to have a successful season."

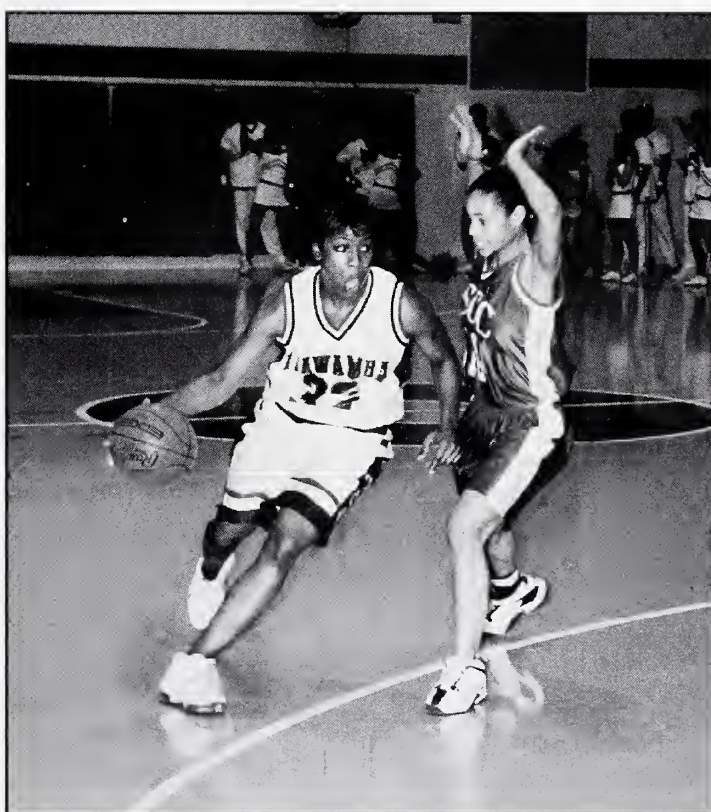

Six players including Rakita Jones and Rachell Patrick, the tallest on the team, returned from last year.

The Lady Indians started practice on October 1.

At press time, the Lady Indians' record was 11-5 and 5-2 in the north division.

Playin' to Win

The Itawamba Community College Indians were cruising through their North Division opponents at press time.

With a 6-1 record (the team's only loss by one point to Holmes on January 31), the Indians were in hot pursuit of a division title.

The Indians returned eight players from the '00 team. Among them were high scorers Charles Slaughter, Shun Jenkins and Trent Vaughn.

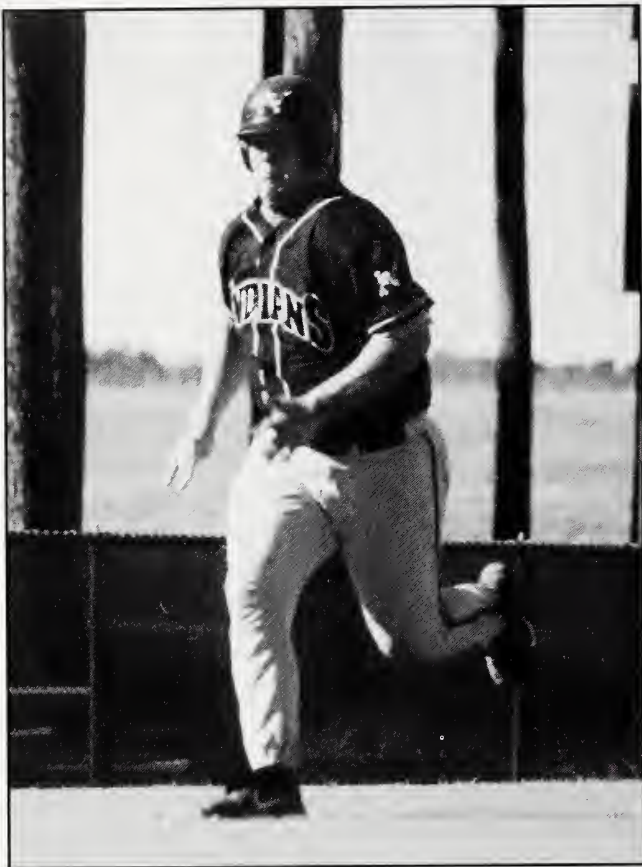

"The whole focus this season is that last year we won 19 games but only with two guys in uniform who had played before," said Coach Marty Cooper.

Experience was evidently the key to the Indians' winning record.

Practice makes Perfect

The 2001 fall baseball season was mainly a tuneup for coach Chuck Box's ICC Indians.

The schedule, which was mainly composed of intra squad games, began on September 22 against Southern Union. Fourteen lettermen returned to the '01 team with four position players and five pitchers. They included Curtis Pitt, Greg Davidson, Gabriel Figueroa and Will Waldkirch. Each hit well above .300, and Waldkirch stole 14 bases in the spring.

One player added to the Indian lineup was Tim Dillard, a 15th round pick of the Milwaukee Brewers. And, the pitching rotation was built around Scott Ellison.

Practice for the fall season began on September 10.

"The hunger is there to keep up the pace," Box said in a pre-season interview. The Indians finished with a 3-1 record against outside opponents.

Soccer Kicks Off

The Itawamba Community College's men's soccer team, under the direction of Coach Matt Convertino, finished strong and clinched its second straight playoff berth during the 2001 season.

The Indians played Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College in the MACJC tournament, but never got the spark they needed in the 3-0 loss.

ICC finished the season with an overall record of 10-6-1, remaining undefeated in division play.

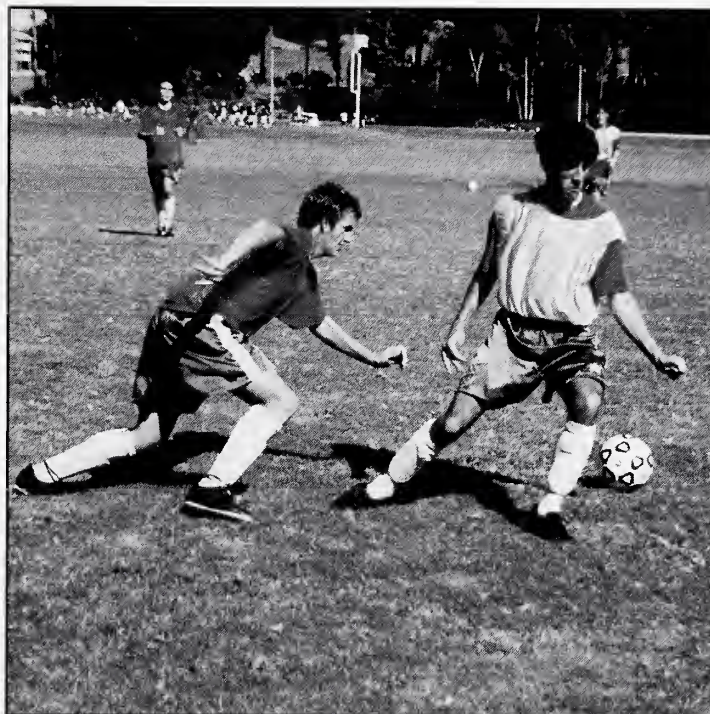

Gulf Coast also defeated the Indians in the first game of the season, 2-1.

The team's goal at the beginning of the season was to go undefeated at home. Team members took the first step to achieving that goal with a 2-1 win over Pearl River on Sept. 5.

An additional 2-1 win over Mississippi Delta on Sept. 15 was the first division victory for the Indians.

Just Warmin' up

The Indian baseball team completed the spring 2001 season with a 38-16 record, a north state championship and a trip to the state tournament.

ICC maintained its no. 1 ranking in the NJCAA Division II poll in late April and early May. The 2001 team was ranked in the top five every week during the season.

Scott Ellison, 36th round pick of the Texas Rangers, who transferred from Meridian Community College, combined with players such as Andy Dillard, Ben Lindsay, Dusty Raby, Clint Vanasselberg and Jonathan Van Every for a stellar season. Ellison returned to the Indians for another year, and the other five were signed by four-year colleges. Also, Van Every was signed by the Cleveland Indians.

Season highlights included 22 runs on 29 hits against Bevill-Sumiton on March 3. Jackson State (TN) swept the Indians at home for the first time since 1999. Former Boston Red Sox star Dave "Boo" Farris kicked off the season as the featured speaker at the Lead-Off Banquet, February 2.

Making the Play

The Lady Indians started the 2001 season at the end of February with a new coach, Monda Lamb.

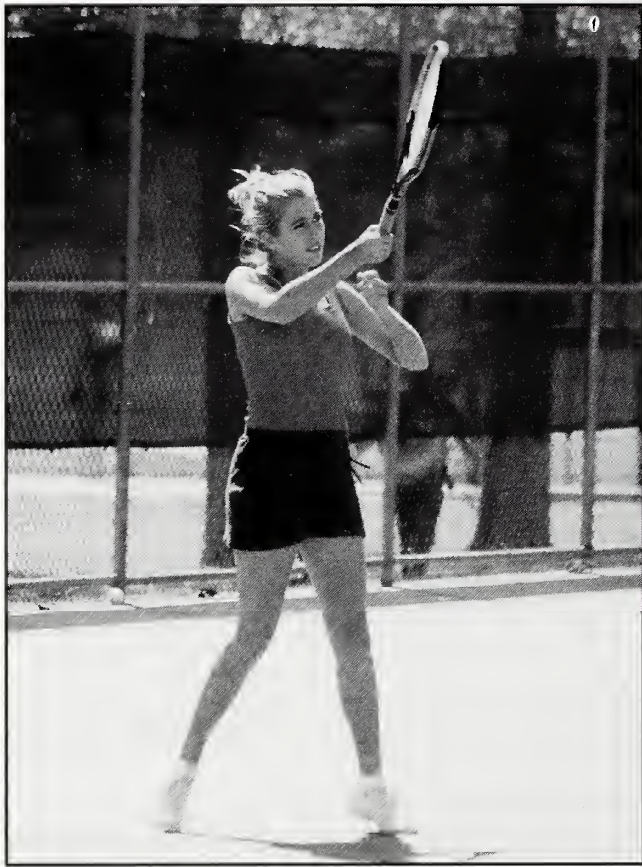

The new season brought back very few players; however, the teamwork of those with experience helped the new coach and players. Each player showed dedication and a love for the game, which lifted the team's spirits during difficult times. Even though the season was not victorious, the players worked hard.

The Lady Indians began the spring season in February against Dyersburg State. They played in several tournaments during the season as well as a full schedule of hard played games. The season ended with a home game against Northwest and a 0-14 regular season record.

The office of Student Activities at Itawamba Community College provides many opportunities for students to participate in various activities throughout the academic year, and many students took advantage during the 2001 spring semester.

An intramural sports program during the late afternoon and evening offered beach volleyball, flag football, 3 v 3 basketball, 5 v 5 basketball, softball, and several tournaments throughout the year such as ping-pong, 8-ball pool and spades.

The intramural program is voluntary and is open to all full-time students except for varsity athletes who are certified in the particular sport that is being played.

Kristi Herndon

Many students at Itawamba Community College got involved with the clubs thinking that it would just be something to pass their time, when really they were joining organizations related to their career field. While several ICC clubs are health related, many other students had an opportunity to join clubs ranging from Indian Delegation and Choir to Radiologic Technology and Phi Beta Lambda.

The students found lasting friendships this year, a greater love for their career, and helped others in need. The clubs helped students strive to become greater persons than they thought they could be. Organization activities varied from Homecoming sign painting to raising funds for a cure for cancer to giving children a Christmas to remember.

Whatever organization students joined at ICC, they left this year with a greater appreciation for the club and each other.

"The entertainment."

Nora Stokes

"Being able to help support other student nurses and having their support."

Kelli Gann

SNA, HOSA, NCF and SHIMA are health-care related clubs, that focus on helping others.

The Nurses Christian Fellowship met monthly in the Health Science building in the second floor tower room. No dues were charged, and everyone was invited. NCF was organized for the members to receive spiritual insight along with discussing nursing issues.

Student Health Information Management Association met monthly. Its year was filled with several service projects and fundraisers. The members had a breast walk, sold candles, collected cans, and they adopted an angel at Christmas.

The Student Nurses Association met monthly in the Health Science Building. The members participated in several community service activities. One of their projects was a car wash to help raise money for the club.

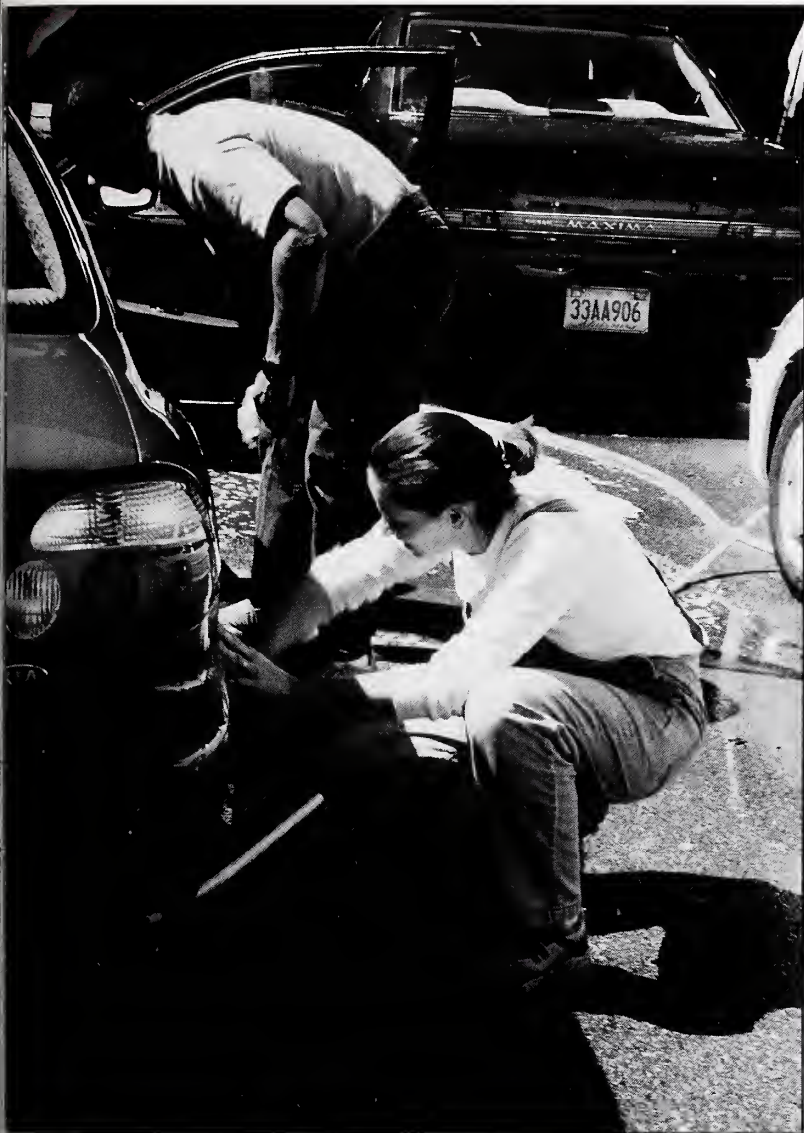

The Health Occupations Students of America is a national organization of health care students that met monthly in the Health Occupations building on the Tupelo Campus. The members attended the District HOSA competition.

World of Difference

SIFE • Phi Beta Lambda

What was the highlight of your club year?

"I like the Race for the Cure because it was a good benefit, it helped the victims out."

Melissa Warren

"The Christmas party. After the party we went shopping at Wal-Mart to buy gifts for some needy kids."

Priscilla Judon

"Beauty Review and homecoming sign."

Tashunda Green

Through several clubs offered at Itawamba Community College students received hands-on experience for the related field of their choice. Phi Beta Lambda and Students in Free Enterprise are business related clubs, which allowed business majors to be active in the community and other projects.

Phi Beta Lambda has chapters in Fulton and Tupelo. The Fulton chapter met on the second and fourth Monday of each month. Its activities included sponsoring the annual Most Beautiful pageant, Race for the Cure, and attending the MBEA conference in Jackson. SIFE was composed of the officers of Phi Beta Lambda, who participated in competitions throughout the year. They met with Phi Beta Lambda.

The Tupelo Campus chapter met the first and third Wednesday of every month. Their activities included painting a Homecoming sign, Race for the Cure, March of Dimes Walk America, hospitality to children at North Mississippi Medical Center and also host for a statewide PBL competition and the northern district FBLA.

Taking Leadership Roles

Political Science • SGA • Student Court

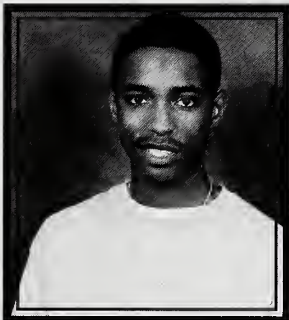

What was the highlight of your club year?

"I have enjoyed the privileges and experiences I have had while being a member of Student Court."

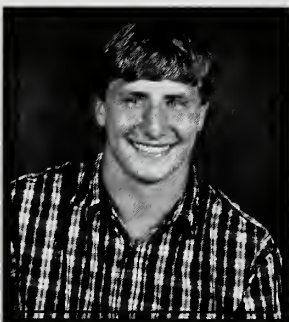

Misty Robinson

"I enjoyed making decisions on behalf of the student body."

Justin Alexander

"The highlight of the club year was participating in the fundraiser."

Gabriel Locastro

Leadership opportunities were offered by several organizations on both the Fulton and Tupelo campuses. Among them were the Student Government Association, Student Court and Political Science Club.

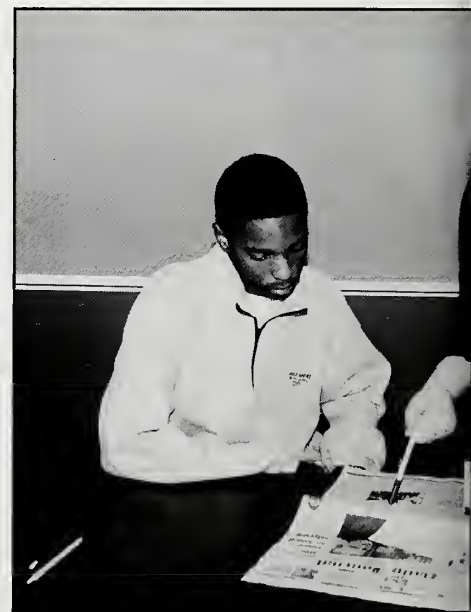

The Student Government Association is an organization for which its members were elected by the student body. The group sponsored activities such as Indian Week, Spring Formal, and Battle of the Bands.

Student Court was the organization in charge of hearing court appeals from students.

The Political Science Club addressed political issues. The club has a history of holding debates and hosting the appearances of elected officials.

Focus On Excellence

Phi Theta Kappa

What was the highlight of your club year?

"I enjoyed being involved with an ambitious group of people."

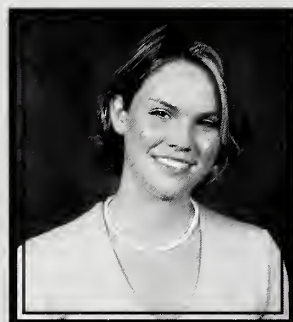

Sarah Kolenda

"Eating."

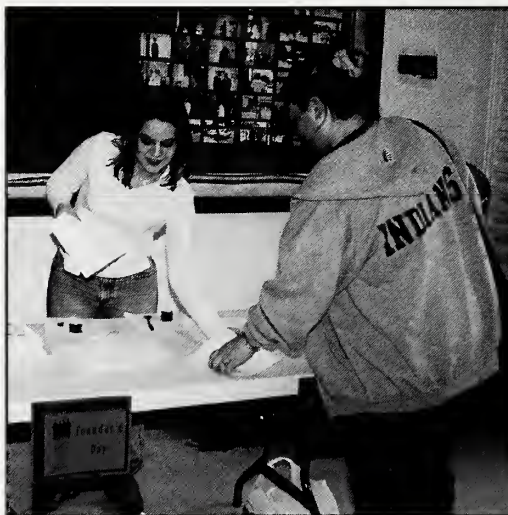

Jimmy Flake

"The community service projects were fun to be involved in."

Anna Carter

Phi Theta Kappa is the national honor society for two-year colleges. Although academic excellence is one of the focuses of PTK, other hallmarks of achievement include leadership, scholarship, fellowship and service. The Upsilon Sigma chapter participated in many activities involving these areas such as Project American Flag reaching local third graders, Itawamba Food Pantry, School Time Friends, and Toys for Tots. PTK also helped with campus tutoring and sponsored Honors Day. The members celebrated Founders' Day by serving a continental breakfast for faculty and cake to students. Phi Theta Kappa also sold blocks of cheese to raise money for its trip to the national convention at the Opryland Hotel in April. Membership is open to students with a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

Fashion and Leadership

Fashion Tribe • Indian Delegation

What was the highlight of your club year?

"My favorite thing about Indian Delegation was giving tours to high school seniors, encouraging them to come to ICC."

Emily Russell

"I've really enjoyed being in Fashion Tribe. It has been a great experience being able to meet new friends and showing off the latest styles."

K.C. Arnold

"Being in Fashion Tribe has been a great experience and it has boosted my self-esteem."

Keri Pickle

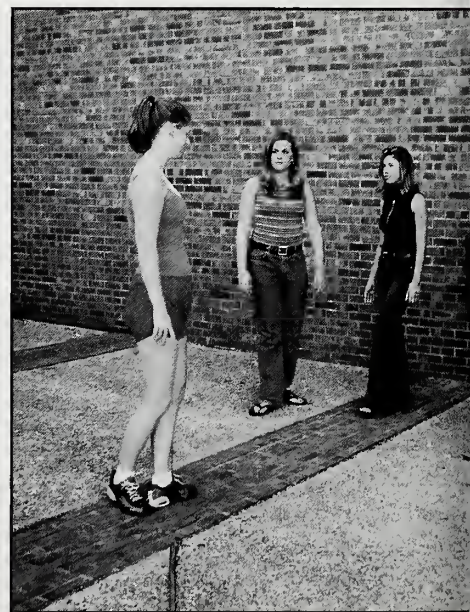

The Indian Delegation and Fashion Tribe are Itawamba Community College's public relations groups. They participated in many activities to promote the college, both on and off campus.

The Indian Delegation is an elite group of students who recruited students, guided tour groups and hosted conferences and dinners for guests. Sponsors of the Indian Delegation were Brad Boggs on the Tupelo Campus and Larry Boggs on the Fulton Campus. The Tupelo group was composed of six members who met weekly to pick up their assignments. The Fulton Campus group included 27 members who also met weekly.

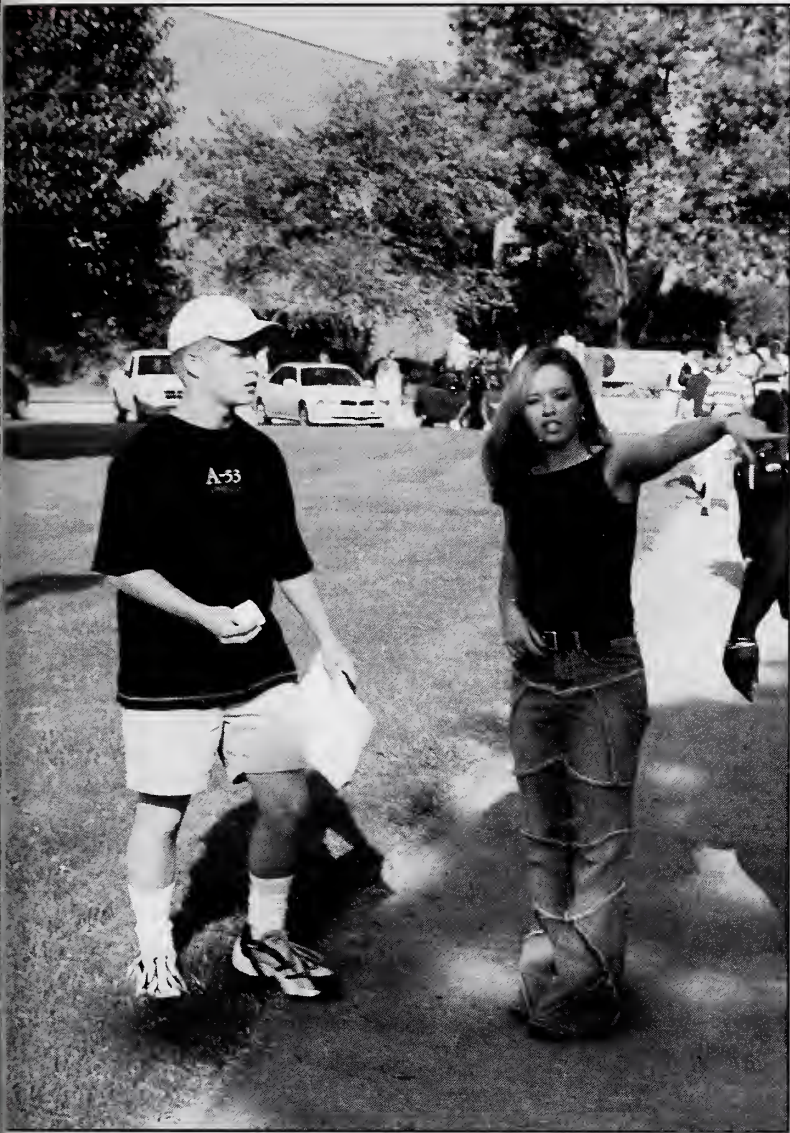

The Fashion Tribe promoted Itawamba Community College through modeling at various shows throughout the year including several on-campus.

Students Show Talent

Delta Psi Omega • Student Art League • Theatrical Society

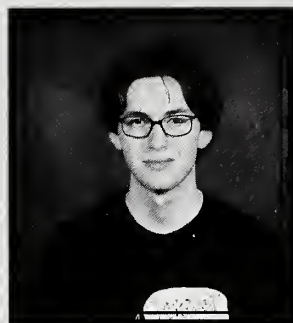

What was the highlight of your club year?

"We all get along really well, and sweet-pea is our hero in Delta Psi Omega."

Megan Cotton

"I have been enriched by this department."

Jason Beasley

"Working with other club members and meeting new people."

Alicia Henderson

Delta Psi Omega, the Student Art League, and the Theatrical Society at ICC allowed students to express themselves and bring out their natural abilities and talents.

Delta Psi Omega met on Mondays each week. The members worked on the fall production of "Thyestes," the spring production, and fundraisers including bake sales.

The Student Art League met and discussed its various art projects this year. The members worked extremely hard on their portfolios and took them to National Portfolio Day at Memphis College on November 4. They designed calendars to sell and raise money for the families of the World Trade Center victims.

The Theatrical Society met on Mondays. One of its projects was serving as Habitat for Humanity volunteers. Members also participated in a theatrical festival in Hattiesburg on November 7-11.

Rockin' and Rollin'

Kaleidoscope

What was the highlight of your year?

"It allows me to interact with little kids and spend time with my boyfriend."

Kristen Burchfield

"It helped me to overcome stage fright and meet some extremely talented musicians."

Jessica Yarber

"Kaleidoscope is a great musical experience that has allowed me to enjoy the thrill of entertaining various audiences."

Adam Lochridge

Ltawamba Community College's jazz, rock, pop, and country musical group, Kaleidoscope, has been entertaining schools, business groups, and audiences of other genres for 28 years.

Kaleidoscope performed at the Homecoming celebration at the Fulton Campus, but the members' favorite place to perform was elementary schools. During the fall semester, everyone worked on individual songs and learned required music along with the National Anthem due to the unforgettable incident of September 11.

Songs on Kaleidoscope's agenda included "I Got the Music in Me," "Proud Mary," "Deep River Woman," "I'm a Woman," "Godspell," "Operator," "O' Happy Day," and director Jerry Cogdell's favorite song to choreograph, "Blue Suede Shoes."

Cogdell and his wife, Robyn, have worked dilligently for more than 16 years to make Kaleidoscope the contemporary rockin' and rollin' group it is today.

Jodi Pearson and Jessica Yarber hit the notes on the tune, "I Got the Music in Me."

Focus on Others

Projections • Modern Language • Sign Language

What was the highlight of your club year?

"I learn more about different countries. I got a chance to hear from someone else talk about another country."

Yolanda Harrell

"Sign Language helps me learn how to interpret for the deaf."

Charla McFadden

"Being a member of the Modern Language club has given me the opportunity to meet people from different widespread regions."

Rose Zang

Several clubs at Itawamba Community College give their members insight into the use of language each year, and this year was no exception.

They include Modern Language, Sign Language and Projections. All focused on communication as well as affording members an opportunity to interact with other students.

The 30 Modern Language Club members learned about people from other countries through speakers such as Marat Yanavitski of Belarus and Manuela Ebanes of Germany. Projects included the purchase of Christmas gifts for a family in Pontotoc County. The group met in the Business Education Building on the third Friday of each month.

The 15 member Projections staff prepared entries for the state literary magazine. The members met during C period on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Highlights of the year for the Sign Language Club included a trip to the Mississippi School for the Deaf and to the Southeastern Regional Institute for the Deaf. Projects included the adoption of a family for Christmas and a candy sale.

Projections: Front Row: Amanda Stegall, Ginny Lindley, Anastasia Malaspina; Second Row: Anna Pounders, Pat Thorn, A.J. Stewart; Third Row: advisor Ken Bishop, and Bradley Golden.

Fellowship Among Students

BSU • FCA • Wesley • Gospel Sounds

What was the highlight of your club year?

"The BSU allows me to fellowship with others, and it helps me to tell others about Jesus."

James Bradford

"FCA is a place where I can be with my friends, worship, and grow in my relationship with God."

Anna Inmon

"Wesley is a place where I want to worship God with people like me and showing others about my Christian fellowship."

Susan Hodges

The Baptist Student Union is the oldest and largest on-campus religious organization. The group is best known for its Wednesday luncheon, a campus tradition since 1982. Reaching more than 800 students this year, the BSU offered opportunities such as summer missions, mission trips, Bible study, worship teams and discipleship training. Bro. Chris Burrows has served as the BSU director since 1996.

Wesley Foundation enjoyed its weekly Tuesday night supper, worship service and a coffee house on Thursday nights. The group selected Kacie Donald as its representative in the ICC Most Beautiful Pageant.

The Gospel Sounds performed in several concerts during the year. Sixty-seven members were in the group which was under the direction of Coach Carrie Ball.

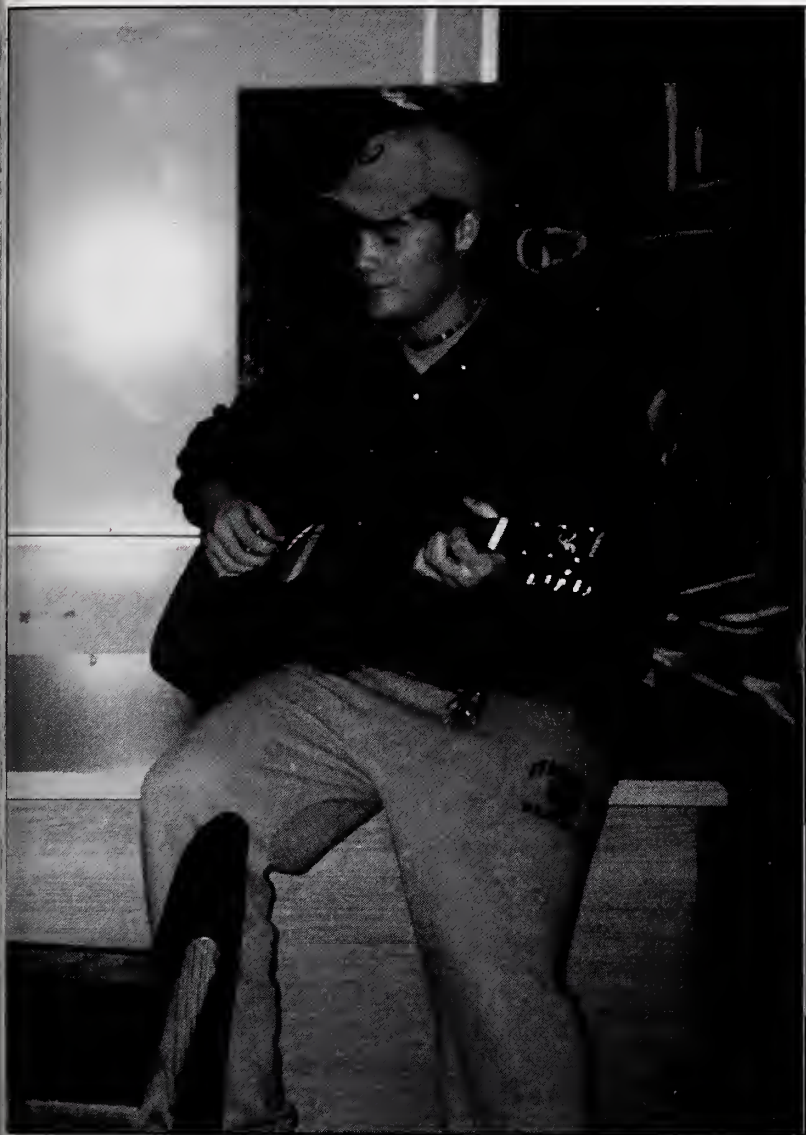

FCA met every Tuesday. The group had guest speakers and sang praise songs during its meetings.

Reflecting Memorable Moments

Mirror

How do you benefit from staff membership?

"I enjoy being a part of creating something that we all will reflect on when we are older."

Cindy Maxcy

"It keeps me informed about all the activities that occur at ICC."

Jessica Yarber

"It gives me an opportunity to see the guys I might like to meet."

Amy Sullivan

The 28 members of the Mirror staff began work on the yearbook in mid-August when classes began and continued through the February 1 final deadline.

The 2002 edition features 216 pages highlighting organizations, newsmakers, classes, and sports.

Editors Kristi Herndon and Marc Helms determined the theme and cover design and directed the staff to meet additional deadlines in October, November, and December. They were responsible for designing the yearbook as well as with assisting other staff members, checking pages, cropping pictures, and entering the information in the computer.

Reporting the News

Chieftain

What was the highlight of your year?

"I just love being involved in everything ICC has to offer."

Mistie Williams

"It has helped me develop my writing skills while meeting new people."

Christal Brock

"Being the editor of the Chieftain has provided me with an outlet from which to express myself."

Nora Brown

Members of the Chieftain staff produced a typically 12-page newspaper the last Monday of every month. The papers were available for the student body on both Tupelo and Fulton campuses and students could pick them up from racks located in almost all ICC buildings.

Staff members had three weeks to write stories after selecting them from a list provided by editor Nora Brown. They interviewed appropriate personnel and students for the news, features and sports. The sports editor was Matthew Hicks and the publisher was the New Albany Gazette.

The other members of the Chieftain were Martina Black, Christen Bland, Claire Boyd, Christal Brock, Brandy Brooks, Heath Capps, Alicia Chaboya, Justine O'Neal Crosby, Anna Davis, Jessica Deckert, Sharon Ezell, Mia Fleming, Yolanda Harrell, Aretha Gardner, Kelli Garner, Sabrina Gilleyen, Valena Gonzales, Cassie Hamblin, Tonya Henley, Gary Ivy, Kevin Martin, Marie Mooneyham, Sara Murphy, Blake Nichols, Nathan Osborne, Randall Partin, Wendy Patterson, Jessica Pettigrew, Katie Pickens, Rhiannon Shaw, Amy Sheppard, David Steele, Crystal Sweat, Monique Turner, Mistie Williams, and Chris Woodward.

The members of the staff were qualified individuals who had prior experience in high school or were enrolled in the Principles of Journalism class.

Super Silly Spring

A Servant of Two Masters

What was the highlight of the production?

"Being part of the play gives you extra credit and it boosts your GPA."

Greg Odom

"Doing something different and enjoying it."

Jackie Faust

"Spending time with fellow Thespians, late night practices and seeing Josh (Green) in a tutu."

Elizabeth Owen

Servant of Two Masters", a comedy by Carlo Goldini, was presented in Fulton on March 7-8, 2001 at 7 p.m. in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center.

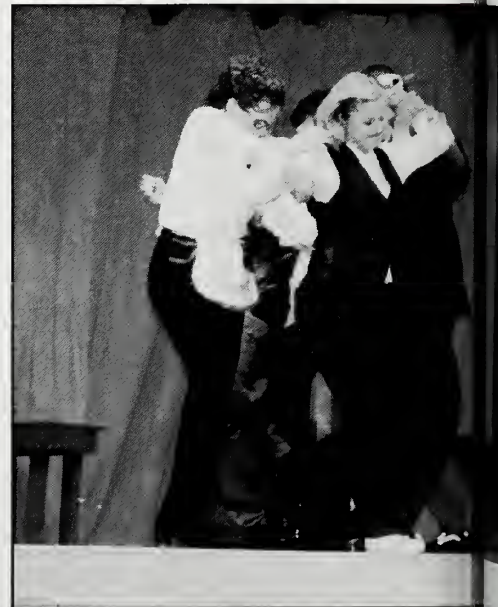

The comedy focused on the arranged marriage of Clarice and Fredrico. Fredrico was believed to be dead until his twin sister, Beatrice, showed up posing as him and tried to cash in on the dowry of Clarice's father, Patalone.

The cast included Nathan Pardin, Audrea McMillen, Greg Odom, Jared Wilson, Deanna Dye, Cullen Stewart, A.J. Stewart, Elizabeth Owen, Derrick Winsett, Josh Green, Jackie Faust and Elizabeth Free.

The production featured set designs from Carmella Casullo, lightwork by Maria Baccelli, creative costume design by Vera Defruscio, and unique hairstyles and makeup by Peter Vergoni.

Cullen Stewart, Elizabeth Owen and Audrea McMillan get ready for the opening curtain.

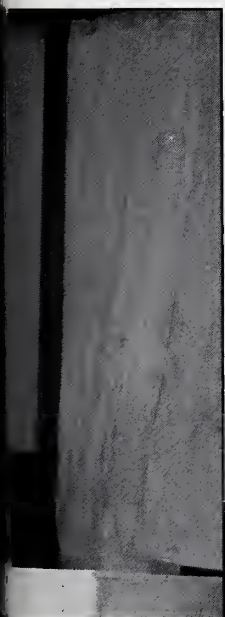

Beatrice, the imposter, is helped by a waitress (Elizabeth Free) as she stumbles across the stage.

Silvio (Jared Wilson) and Clarice (Audrea McMillan) reconcile as Dr. Lombardi (Greg Odom) looks on.

Pantalone (Nathan Pardin) and Dr. Lombardi (Odom) meet to arrange the marriage of their children.

Florindo and Beatrice (Deanna Dye) discover their feelings for each other.

Florindo Artusi (Cullen Stewart) entertains with his thug rap.

A Classic Tragedy

Thyestes

What was the highlight of the production?

"Al Cutturini, the greatest director of all time. He is tops."

Daniel Sansing

"When Jason Beasley would forget he was wearing a dress."

Casey Dillard

"When Mr. Cutturini would yell at the top of his lungs, but then laugh."

Jason Backes

The Itawamba Community College Theatre Department presented "Thyestes" in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center Auditorium on the Fulton Campus. Show days were October 18 and 19 for the tragic Seneca play.

The cast included Jayson Backes, Daniel Sansing, Casey Dillard, Manuela Evans, Cullen Stewart, Nathan Pardin, Elizabeth Owen, Derrick Winsett, Leigh Ellen Wren, Aleigha Armstrong, Garylon Judon, Todd Barnett, Luke Washburn, Jason Beasley, Clint Reid and Starlie Chavez.

The play was masterfully performed as Thyestes and Atrius battled for the crown until the deaths of Thyestes' sons, and the haunting menace of the furies and chorus members.

Cullen Stewart, Casey Dillard, Manuela Evans and Megan Cotton played the furies.

Thyestes (Derrick Winsett) is deep in thought as he's watched by his slave (Nathan Pardin).

The ghost of Tantalus (Jayson Backes) warns others of his fate.

The chorus members (Elizabeth Owen, Starlie Chavez, and Aleigha Armstrong) reiterate the thoughts of Thyestes.

Thyestes' three sons (Luke Washburn, Jason Beasley, and Todd Barnett) confront him while the chorus members look on.

The Messenger (Clint Reid) colorfully displays his urgent message.

Band tops 225

All-American Band

What was the highlight of your year?

"Performing in front of so many people at one time."

Garyon Judon

"Practice every day from 3:30 to 5."

Liza Cooper

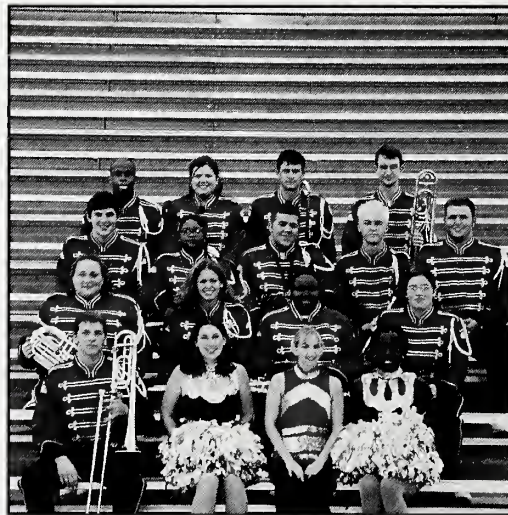

"The whole year was fun and worth the hard work."

Shawn Brannon

This year, Itawamba Community College's marching band was the largest it has ever been. The All-American Marching Band contained a record 225 members. The band paid tribute to the Blue Devils' Drum Corps. This year's show began with the song, "Free," followed by "Pegasus." The drum line was featured with the song, "Channel One Suite," and the band closed with "Since I Fell for You." The directors of the band are David East and Cass Patrick, and the dance instructor, Cathy Steele.

ICC's band was led onto the field by drum majors Mary Beth Nanney of New Albany, Elizabeth Kidd of Pontotoc and Sarah Hill of North Pontotoc. The color guard captains were Amanda Banks of Tupelo, Phyllis Caples of North Pontotoc, Kristen Heering of Fulton and Johnna Farris of Mantachie. The drum captain was Shon Myatt of Amory, and the Indianette captains, Kaycie Cayson of Fulton and Nikki Fant of Houston.

Amanda Miller

Tawamba Community College has a number of instrumental ensemble groups.

They include the woodwind ensemble, brass ensemble, percussion ensemble and the jazz band.

The ensembles practiced two days a week.

The importance of the groups is to play different types of music with a small number of people. In the fall, the ensembles gave a concert, and during the first week in December, the brass ensemble went "caroling" at the Mall at Barnes Crossing in Tupelo.

The jazz band, directed by Dr. Cass Patrick, also practiced two times a week. The group gave a concert in the fall as well. The goal of the jazz band, Patrick said, is to utilize all styles of jazz music and to have students learn how to improvise.

Percussion Ensemble: Evin Robinson, Matthew Brashier, Evan Dudley, Robin Pace, Eric Perry.

Gary Sorrells and Laura Gillentine perform in the brass ensemble concert on November 13.

Amanda Stegall and Elizabeth Kidd perform in the woodwind ensemble concert.

Woodwind Ensemble: front, Justine Crosby, Ashley Allday, Elizabeth Kidd, Jasma Buchanan; second row, Jessica Buchanan, Amanda Stegall, Lee Lee Llewellyn, Juleatha Haynes.

Singing AS One

Choir

What was the highlight of your year?

"Being able to work with an experienced group who enjoys singing."

Marc Helms

"The most exciting performance we had was when we all sang 'The National Anthem' at the Moving Wall ceremony."

Emily Russell

"In the beginning the ensemble was just a group of singers and now we are like sisters."

Amanda Dull

Ltawamba Community College's choir had an eventful year during 2001-02.

Along with increased numbers, the choir participated in a variety of events. Among them was the performance at the opening of the Moving Wall on October 21 and singing the National Anthem at Homecoming on October 6.

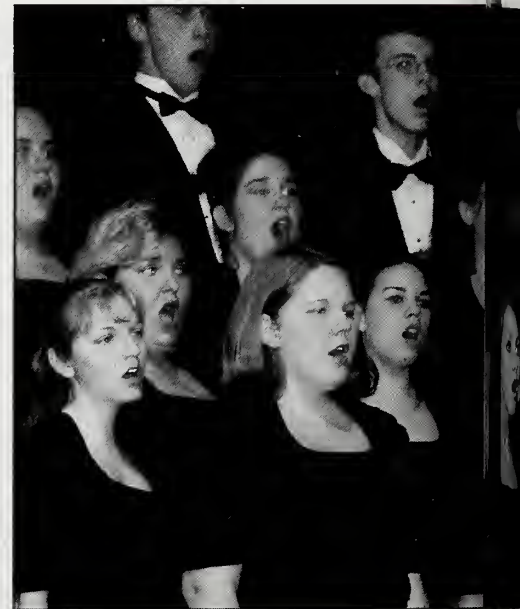

The choir's growth was attributed to recruiting and word of mouth, according to director Karen Davis.

The first semester was spent primarily learning music and practicing for the choir's performances.

The winter concert on November 19 was the highlight of the fall semester.

Jeff Myers accompanies the Ensemble in its performance on November 19.

Raising OUR Voices

Choir

What was the highlight of your year?

"Meeting new people and becoming a good group to work with."

Sarah Kolenda

"It's amazing how we blend with such a small group."

April Caldwell

"Meeting new people and becoming a good choir that works together well."

Mary Beth Nanney

The ICC Choir held its fall concert in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Auditorium on November 19.

The Concert consisted of a performance of the Ensemble, a select group of female singers who practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays during L-M periods, and the Concert Choir.

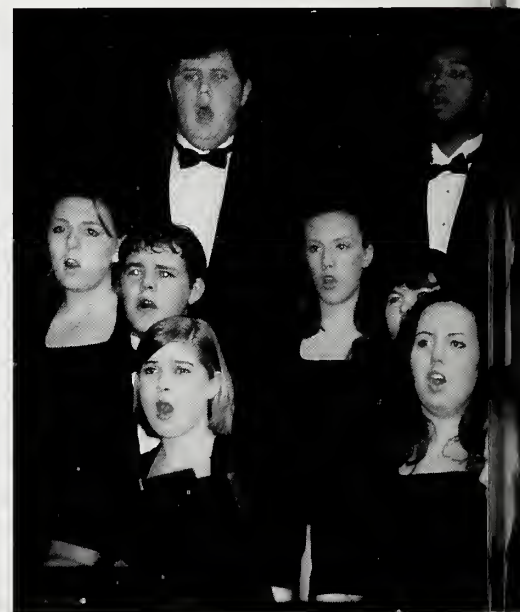

The ensemble performed a variety of pieces which included "Softly as I Leave You" with soloist Chelsi Lockhart and "Danza" with soloist Tracy Tennison.

The Choir performed several spritual and patriotic selections including "In Paradisum" by Faure' and "The Star Spangled Banner" arranged by Jeff Myers. The Choir practiced during D period on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The Choir attended the Mississippi Community College Choir Festival at Holmes Community College at Goodman in February.

Director Karen Davis presents the Ensemble after its performance.

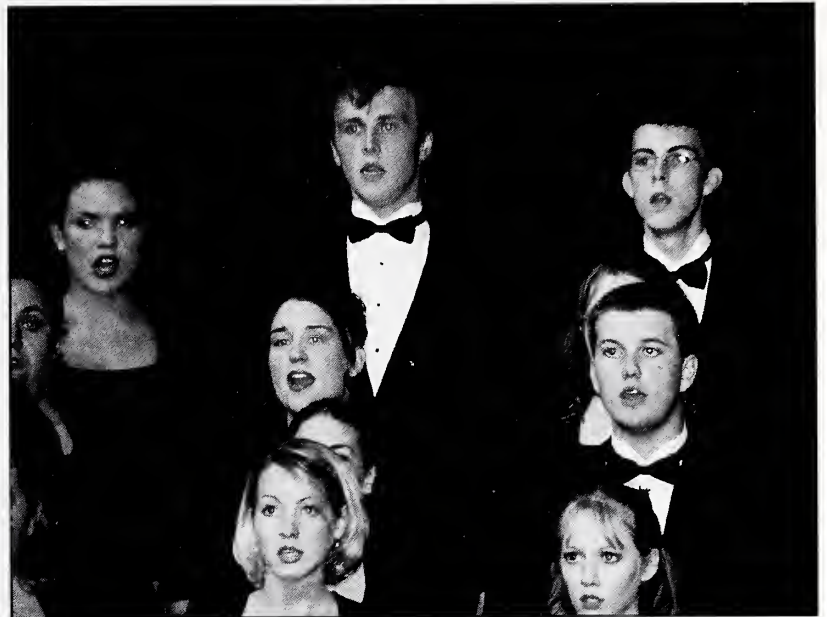

The choir sings an arrangement of "Hear Me Singing, Lord" by Lojeski.

Choir members perform "The Star Spangled Banner".

The Choir sings "Praise His Holy Name."

The Choir sings at the Moving Vietnam Memorial Wall on October 21.

Under the direction of Karen Davis, the Choir displays talent during the Homecoming festivities.

become a broadcast journalist."*

Yolanda Harrell

Both students and faculty members played a big role at ICC this year. They were more than just a group of people. They were a major asset to the college.

The teachers, with a class size of approximately 30, provided extra help.

ICC students had the opportunity to play host to students from a variety of high schools this year. The visitors were eager to see the students, faculty members and facilities so they could make a decision about joining the ICC family. Many said that they were impressed with the closeness of the faculty and students.

All students at ICC had their own advisor, who gave them advice, not only about their education, but also about their future.

Cole returns to ICC

Dr. Cole talks about ICC issues at a meeting of the board of trustees on January 14.

Dr. David Cole became the president of Itawamba Community College in 1993, and since that time, ICC has added the Natural Science Building, the Crane Pavilion and the Student Services Building on the Fulton Campus and the Advanced Education Center on the Tupelo Campus.

Dr. Cole also had a taste of the political arena. For 18 months he was chief of staff for Gov. Ronnie Musgrove, serving as a middleman between the governor and the rest of the world to help implement governmental politics. He returned to ICC in June.

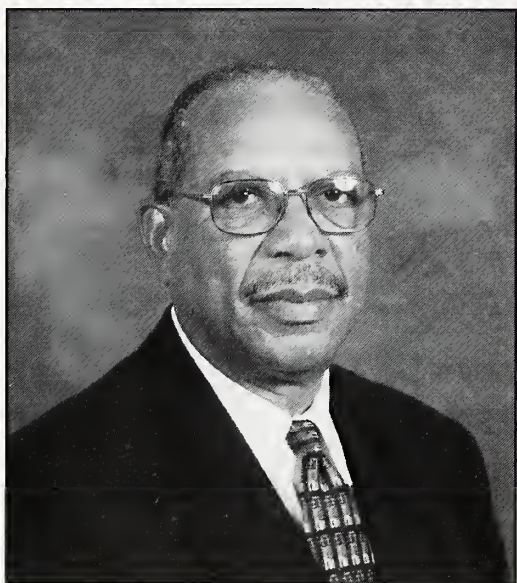

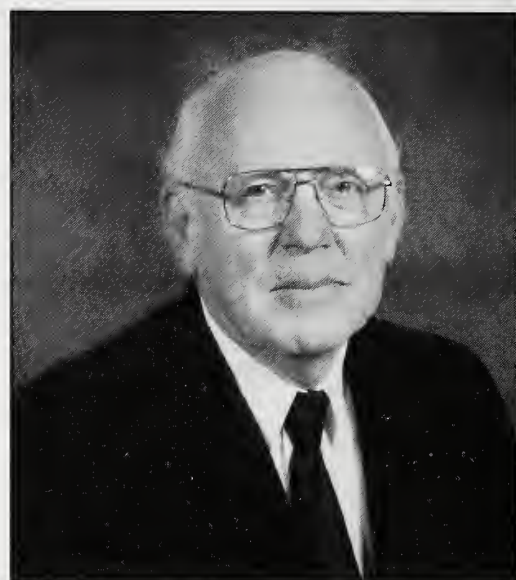

A native of Batesville, Dr. Cole attended Northwest Mississippi Community College. He earned a B.A.E. degree in journalism, a master's degree in educational administration and a Ph.D. in educational leadership, all from the University of Mississippi.

Faculty, staff and students unite in a prayer service on September 14 to remember those who lost their lives on September 11.

On February 12, 2001, Rep. Roger Wicker held an open forum in the W.O. Benjamin Fine Arts Center Auditorium. The visit was sponsored by the Political Science Club.

What advice would you give to ICC students?

"I want ICC students to have an experience that is worthwhile, beneficial and enjoyable."

*Dr. David Cole
ICC President*

Highlights of 2001 at Itawamba Community College include Dr. David C. Cole's return as president in June, and the retirement of long-time administrator and interim president W.E. Boggs. Dr. Cole served 18 months as chief of staff for Gov. Ronnie Musgrove.

The college was faced with belt-tightening with the reduction of legislative appropriations.

ICC's Radiologic Technology program received the highest accreditation award presented by the Joint Review Committee on Education.

Campus improvements included the addition of lights to the baseball field to allow the team to play later in the day.

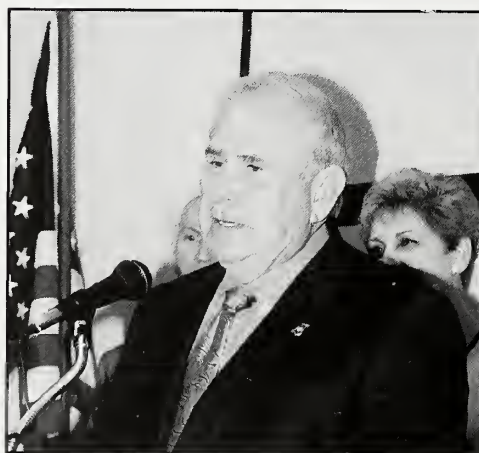

Other significant news included the awarding of an Appalachian Regional Commission grant to assist ICC in developing a 10-year strategic plan covering its programs and services.

Alumnus A.J. Pitts pledged the largest single gift ever from an individual to the ICC Foundation with a planned gift of $100,000.

W.E. Boggs was honored with a retirement reception on May 1.

Jeff Brownlee, Blackboard administrator, demonstrates how students can access notes and assignments through computer technology.

Anna Pounders makes an etching of a name on the Vietnam Moving Wall, which drew thousands to the Fulton Campus in October.

WTC attacks lead '01 news

Nation shocked by terrorism in New York and Washington, D.C.

The terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City and the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. as well as the crash landing of a hijacked plane in a Pennsylvania field on September 11 overshadowed all news in 2001.

However, other events made headlines also including the inauguration of George W. Bush as the nation's 43rd president, blackouts in California and a scandal involving California Republican Gary Condit who denied any involvement in the disappearance of intern Chandra Levy.

Summer shark attacks were reported all over the United States, especially in Florida.

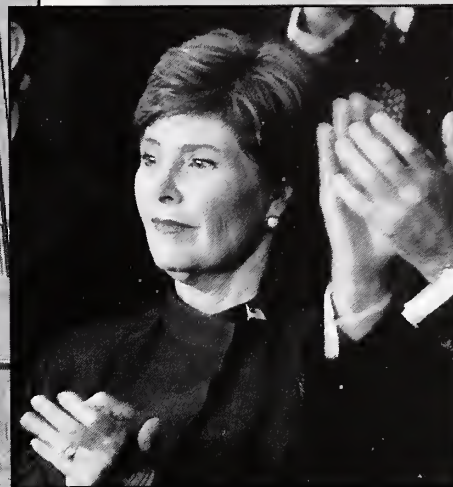

The world was stunned on September 11 as terrorist action leveled the World Trade Center in New York and did significant damage to the Pentagon. Airports were shut down, and security was tightened following the attacks. A manhunt tracked Osama Bin Laden who was wanted in connection with the incidents. Spurred by U.S. air support, the Northern Alliance of Afghanistan seized Kabul, and the fall of Kandahar stopped the Taliban.

The South Tower of the World Trade Center begins to collapse following the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001... Firemen bring out clothing of postal employees that had come in contact with an unknown white powder during the national anthrax scare.

Former President Bill Clinton picks up a shovel full of dirt at groundbreaking ceremony for the Clinton Presidential Library in Little Rock, Ark.

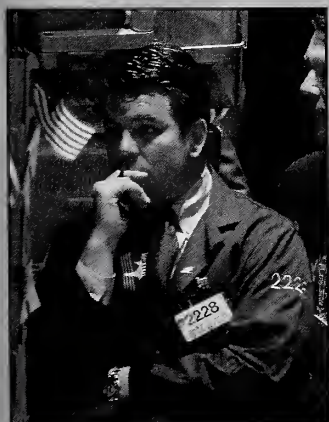

First Lady Laura Bush applauds President George W. Bush's address before a joint session of Congress on Capitol Hill.

Israeli police investigators search the wreckage of a bus after it was bombed in the northern Israeli port city of Haifa.

A priest and NY firefighters and police office pause in the shadow of a cross at Ground Zero for prayer. . . Firemen hose down debris that landed in the backyard of a house at the scene of the crash of an American Airlines jetliner en route to the Dominican Republic.

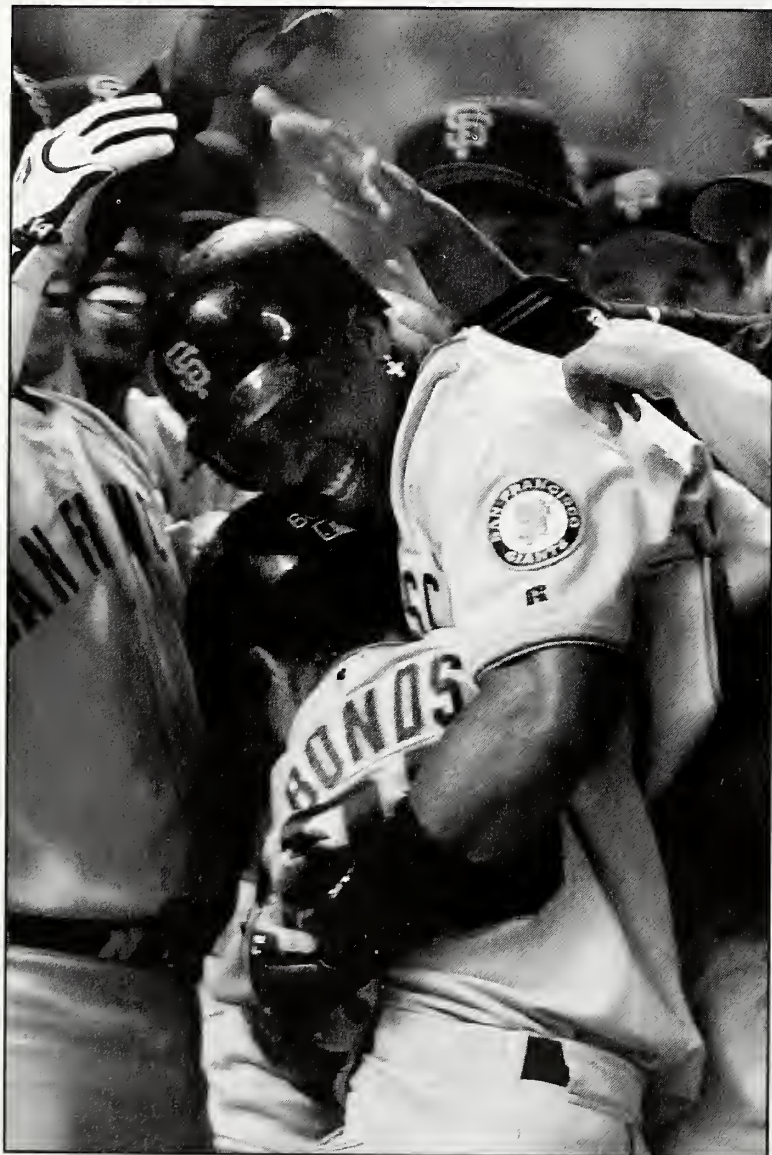

A trader keeps an eye on market activity on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

Saudi dissident Osama bin Laden is wanted by the United States government in connection with the Sept. 11 terrorist attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.

Entertainment, sports hold surprises

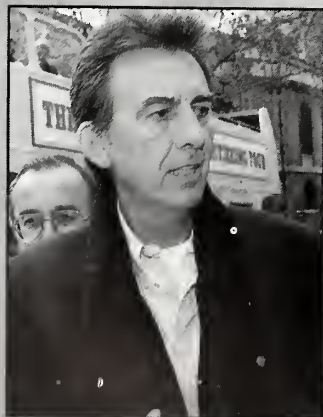

Michael Jordan returns to pro basketball

Lethal letters, whose origin was unknown moved through the United States Postal Service.

In entertainment news, Tom Cruise and Nicole Kidman ended their marriage, and he began a romance with "Vanilla Sky" co-star Penelope Cruz. "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" broke records at the box office. Britney Spears topped the music charts with her new album.

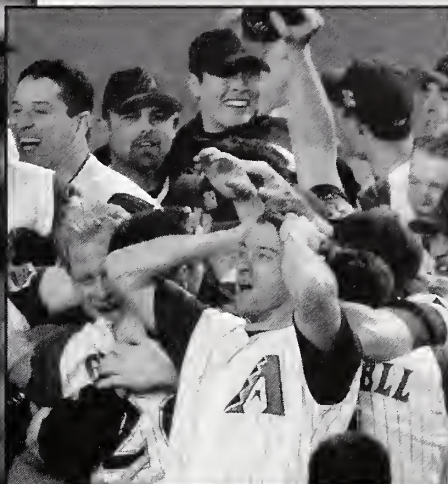

In sports, Michael Jordan returned to the basketball court with the Washington Wizards. At 25, Tiger Woods won the 65th Master's tournament and became the first pro golfer to win four consecutive major professional championships. The Arizona Diamond backs won the World Series, and Barry Bonds of the San Francisco Giants broke Mark McGwire's homerun record. Among notables who died during 2001 were Washington Post publisher Katherine Graham, former Beatle George Harrison, actor Jack Lemmon, race car driver Dale Earnhardt and singer Aaliyah, who was killed in a plane crash returning to the United States.

San Francisco Giants' Barry Bonds hugs his son who is congratulating him for tying Mark McGwire's 70-home run record. . . Former Beatle George Harrison died this year following a battle with lung cancer.

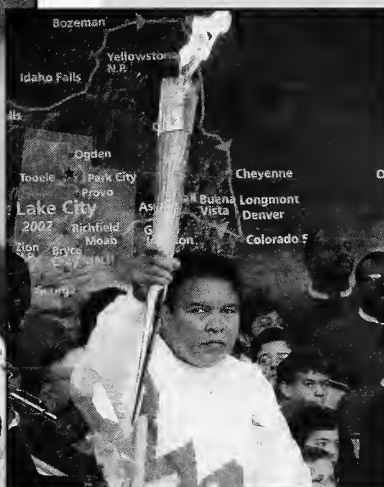

Pop singing sensation Britney Spears offers thrilling performances to sold-out audiences.

The Arizona Diamondbacks celebrate defeating the New York Yankees in World Series.

Actor Daniel Radcliffe, who stars as Harry Potter, arrives for the world premier of the film "Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone."

Michael Jordan plays his first game as a Washington Wizard in an exhibition game against the Detroit Pistons... Boxing legend Muhammed Ali holds up the first Olympic torch beginning a 46-state tour ending in Salt Lake City for the Winter Olympics.

Tom Cruise and Penelope Cruz arrive together to the premiere of Cruz's new film, "Captain Corelli's Mandolin."

Four Leonid meteors streak through the sky over Joshua Tree National Park, Calif.

Colophon

In February, the final pages of the Mirror were sent to Taylor Publishing Company's plant in Dallas, Texas. The 2000 copies were produced there and shipped by truck to the Itawamba Community College Fulton Campus. Greg Williams, Taylor's sales representative, assisted with production of the 9" x 12" book.

The book was produced on 100 pound enamel paper with Smyth binding. The cover was done in red #023.

A rollin' river was screened on the cover and outlined in silver foil. It was embossed to achieve the look of a river. The primary fonts were Bern and Malibu.

Photographs were made by ICC's photographer and public relations assistant, Merlin Conoway. A special thanks goes to both Donna Thomas, public relations director, and Susan Summerford, public relations secretary, for proofreading and helping with every page. A special appreciation is given for the staff members who worked on their pages to correct and complete them for deadlines. We would also like to thank Dr. David and Betty Cole for the use of their house for the Hall of Fame and Mr. and Miss ICC pictures and to Thomas Wells of the Daily Journal for the picture of the Delta Queen.

Rollin' On the River, was the theme of the 2002 Mirror. It was to signify that both ICC campuses are located on or near the Tenn-Tom Waterway. It reflects that ICC students are aware of their environment and take pride in it.
